THE steamer Parkersburg was attached by the United States Marshal, yesterday, to secure a debt of $122 held by John J. Wilson, Second Engineer of the boat, for wages. The Parkersburg was already in the hands of the Sheriff.

YESTERDAY'S Gazette says:

It is expected that an attempt will be made to force he Pandleton Beservoir proposition through the Council to-night.

The Council may force this measure through but our word for it, the people will force it back again. The truth is, the sovereign people have an eye on our Council.

STEPHEN PRICE, the Captain of a canal bout on the Miami Canal, got into a controversy, yesterday, with his chambermaid, Eliza Ford, in regard to the amount of wages claimed by the latter. He became very angry, and finally seized a cowhide and struck her with it several times. He was subsequently arrested on a charge of assault and battery, and will have a hearing to-day before the Police Court.

OFFICER MORMON, of the Third Ward, had desperate battle with a ruffian named Charles Robinson, at the Newport Ferry, last evening. He attempted to arrest Robinson upon a warrant charging him with "assault with intent to kill." Robinson turned upon the officer and abused him to a considerable extent. Mormon called upon several bystanders for assistance, all of whom were beaten off by the infurlated Robinson. Wo are pleased to state that the officer succeeded in arresting the ruffian, after receiving severe injuries, and locked him up in the Hammond-street station-house. He will appear at the Police Court this morning, to answer.

Our Street Railroads.

The project of condemning many of the important streets for exclusive use of one City Railroad Company, for tracks for passenger transportation in this city, is attending considerable interest, and creating some excitement.

The City Civil Engineer has marked off the line claimed by them on a map of the city; coming into the city from Pendleton, there is designed to be a double track down to Washington street, which is at the upper end of the Third Ward. A single track courses thence down East Front to Freight Depot of Little Miami Railroad Company, when it branches, one track continuing down Front street to Brondway, the other taking Congress street to Bros dway, thence crossing the Front street tracit on Public Landing; one passing West through Water street to Smith street, there joining again the Front street track, which runs to intersection of Fifth and Front, at Free nan street.

At Freeman street-a double track diverges ons continuing its whole length to Hamilton Road -the other taking route by Sixth street down the Lower River Road to Sedams, etc.

A d ouble track on a route coming into the city from Cumminsville, passes along by Benck enstein's Garden, and Brighton House, and down Western Row to Fourth street.

Coming from the East-a single track passes up Lawrence from Front to Fourth street, at Capt. Strader's corner, thence to Fourth and Walnut. Here again a double track extends along from Melodeon Hall corner, past Pike's Opera House and Post-office to Race streetthen west by single track to Wood street; down that street one square to Third street; thence east along Third street to engine-house at Third and Lawrence.

There are no tracks on Main street. A single track leaves Fourth street, along Walnut street, passing over the Rhine to Hamilton road; thence by that road to the head of Race street, and back by Race street to Fourth street. The Vine-street line is the only one which goes below Fourth, it extending from Hamilton road down to Front street. There are three cross-lines extending west-one from Vine street, by Eighth street, to Freeman street; one from Walnut, on Seventh, to Freeman street, and one from Walnut, by Ninth street, to Freeman street.

A double-track line, for Walnut Hills, Avondale, etc., passes up Broadway, from Fourth street to Hunt street; thence by Lebanon Turnpike road to toll-gate, and diverging to the hills RIVER NEWS .- The river here is steadily deelining, with five and a half feet hence to Louisville, three and a half on Blanny and Buffington below Marietta, and twenty-nine inches on Glass House, above Wheeling. Bars and sand-banks are peeping up the entire length of the river from Pittsburg to Cairo, and boats of heavy draught are forced to yield to the lighter crafts. Business at this point is active, and rates fair. The Melrose arrived from below, and with the Indian cleared for Pittsburg, and the Orb and Universe departed for New Orleans, all fully freighted to the water. The Melrose was sold, yesterday, to Capt. Wm. McClain, for $9,500, for the lowwater business of the Cincinnati and Portsmouth trade, and the Hastings has been sold to Capt. Harvy, formerly of the Potomac, for quisite to show the great necessity of a Work- $13,000. The Parkersburg was yesterday tied up by the Sheriff for debt. COUNTY AND CITY BOARD OF EQUALIZATION. The County Board of Equalization were engaged yesterday morning in summoning persons to testify in regard to the returned assessments of their immediate neighbors. Ten were summoned from Green Township, and the requisite number for Miami and Millereek.

The City Board was also engaged in summoning for the same purpose, and also increasing the returned assessments of such as they are reliably informed fall short of their true value. Their increase, yesterday morning, amounted to $25,000 in personalty department.

THE Reading and Library rooms of the Young Mon's Mercantile, after a complete refiting, look as neat as a new pin. The statuary has a more lively appearance, and additional specimens of coral and other beauties of old ocean adora the well-arranged cases. The papers and magazines are always attractive. Strangers from various parts of our country, Canada and Europe, are daily visitors to this noted place.

THE "Arkansas Traveler" is in town, and is to have a public reception at Pike's Opera House to-night. He brings that fiddle with him, and plays as none else can play-to suit a Cincinnati audience. The old-time folks, men and women, whose ears and hearts have been captivated long ogo by Torso, will attend and bring the young folks. If this musical treat be not a memorable reunion, then our opinion may go for naught.

THE illustrated papers are peculiarly spirited. The last Punch has Punch himself on horseback, taking command of his field in defense of his country, and a caricature of France and Russia, as "birds of a feather." The imperial birds of France and Russia eyeing a double-headed Austrian eagle, just pouncing on the lamb, Italy. Motto: "Dear brother, let us hasten to protect the poor lamb yonder."

LAW REPORT.

SUPERIOR COURT.

BOPERIOR COURT.

Room No. i.—A jury was called to try an action beought on a note. The defendant's counsel, under the new law in relation to juries, having objected to any party setting on the jury who had served during the term, several who had already taken their places as jurors had to withdraw, and Judge Storer directed the panel to be filled up with by-standers.

One individual thus called upon declined to sit on the jury he said by had not time.

Judge Storer.—You must do as the Court directs.
The stranger, who was leaning leisurely on the enclosure outside the bar, shock his head.

Judge Storer.—Mr. Sheriff is not here.

Judge Storer.—Well, I appoint you deputy—take him up.
The Clerk (taking the indicated).

The Clerk (taking the individual by the arm, but finding him as strong and obstinate as a mule)—He won't go, sir.

The Deputy Sheriff here came in, an attempted to bring the individual along, but it was no go; he restated alike physical appeals and the mandates of the officers.

sisted alike physical appeals and the mandates of the officers.

Jadge Storer (to the Sergeant-at-Arms)—Robert, assist the Sheriff as posse. (Laughter.)

Robert, on going over to give the proffered aid, recognized in this man an imbedic person who occasionally annused inhuself by strolling through the Court-rooms.

At this stage of the proceeding the defendant's counsel informed the Court that he would submit the case without the intervention of a jury.

In Room No. 2, before Judge Headley, a jury was empannelled trying the case of Landis & Co. vs. C. Fletcher and L. Fletcher. The contract was denied on the part of the defense.

Coffin and Mitchell for plaintiff; Worthington, Matthews and Douglas for defense.

THE DONKTH MONKEY TROUBS .- By far the best patronized exhibition we have had in Cincinnati during the heated term, is the Signor Donetti's troupe of performing Monkeys, Dogs and Goats, now at Smith & Nixon's Hall. Yesterday afternoon and last evening the Hall was thronged to its utmost capacity, and we have never known audiences better pleased. They perform again this evening. Wood's THEATER .- The performances of Maggie Mitchell, the fascinating and versatile little actress now at Wood's Theater, seems never to flag in interest. She will always be popular wherever she goes, but especially so in this city, where talent such as she possesses is ever appreciated. She appears in some of her best characters this evening.

NATIONAL THEATER.-They had a paying house at this establishment last evening, although not so full as on former occasions. The Martinetti are equal to any troupe of pantomimists in the country. They give an excellent performance to-night.

Our "Daily Press" Agent of Columbus will receive our thanks for numerous favors. He has the vim that commands our admiration.

Mrs. Clarissa Williams, who was one hun ired and one years old on the 14th of April, tives in Oxford, Conn. Up to the 1st of May she was about the house, working every day, us "smart" as many younger women. Be-ween the 1st of February and the 7th of Wareh, she knit two pair of long stockings, if yarn spun by herself since she was one undred years old. Gen. Washington staid at ter father's house one night during the Revdution. She was spinning, with some other oung ladies when he arrived, and she says but he sat down and "talked as chipper as the sat down and "talked as chipper as the sat young boy." In answer to an inquiry, "What sort of a looking man he was," she said, "He had dark hair, braided in a long cue, arlocks ourled, foretop out square, white skin, and as handsome as a picture."

BRUTAL CRUELTY .- A fellow named Henry Watson, living near the corner of Fifth and it. Clair streets, was arrested Monday evening for abusing his wife, while drunk. Her head was out in several places, including a severe cash upon her forehead. This is not the first by a score of times that this fellow has been suilty of the same brutal conduct, while she, exhibiting the beautiful constancy and herosm of a true woman, nearly supports the fam-ly; and whenever Watson is arrested, refuses to appear against him, and even intercedes for him. The wretch ought to be cowhided.—DayThe Wealth of the West.

Doring all the months of the late winter the public mind of the Western States was agitated by visions of wealth believed to be within easy grasp of an adventurous population. The treasures thus coveted lay not in their exuberant soil. Three successive seasons of failure had saddened the hearts of Western husbandmen, and almost shaken confidence in their fertile lands. Late springs, followed by rainy summers, proved disastrous to the production of the earth, and to the hopes of those who tilled it.

Their gloom at length caught a ray from the newly discovered gold fields, and they were in a frame of mind to receive eagerly and credit with slight scrutiny the tales of treasure to be found at Pike's Peak.

Accordingly with the opening Spring the great Valley poured forth its thousands to dig for gold. They left behind those prairies whose almost fabulous fertility had, in former years, drawn them from Eastern homes, and rushed headlong across the plains, where the shining ore was expected to reward all their labors and privations. Next Fall they trusted to return enriched and content.

That dream is over. Before the Summer has begun they are hastening back, hungry, naked, and desperate. The gold was a detusion: they rush from its reputed locality as from the embrace of death. Not a few indeed have perished in their mad endeavor to become suddenly rich, while those who survive are but too happy to return to the homes they so lately

While they have been absent Nature has no been idle. Her beneficent hand has clothed the earth with richest verdure. The fields of the Mississippi Valley are covered with grain. Everywhere the promise of unwonted plenty greets the eye. The crops, now whitening for the harvest in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, sur-passes in value all that the most sanguine expected from Pike's Peak. It is at home that the deluded miners should have delved for treasure. The earth may seem a capricious, but never is an unkind mother. She rewards always, the labors of the husbandman.

At the present time we have, from every quarter of the country, but more especially from the Western States, intelligence of crops abundant almost without parallel. Should no untoward change take place, the products of the West will constitute a fund of wealth better, far better, than the utmost anticipations ventured to claim from the diggings at Pike's Peak .- N. Y. Times, May 25.

We learn from The Hannibal (Mo.) Gazette that Mr. Richard Cobden has joined Mr. Greely in his journey to California.
